About the Seminar:

India offers a mosaic of cultures, faith, languages, customs, traditions and rituals. All such things along with geography of natural features are considered as heritage, because all these are inherited by us. It has evolved in the course of history. Heritage can be broadly categorized in two parts: Natural Heritage and Cultural Heritage. Natural Heritage includes natural features like mountains, forests, deserts, lakes, rivers, sea, climate, flora and fauna. Cultural Heritage includes monuments, forts & palaces, dwellings, historical sites etc. along with Literary Heritage, Decorative and other arts, performing arts, fairs & festivals, pilgrimage centers etc. Heritage is the mirror of our national identity. Today our rich heritage is facing a lot of challenges such as globalization, urbanization, rapid industrialization, terrorism, rampant misuse of natural resources and a lot more. So, keeping in view the social and economical benefits of heritage it is need of the hour to provide a platform among scholars of different disciplines to share their views on such an important aspect of culture through this seminar.
